

Come fly with Twitter

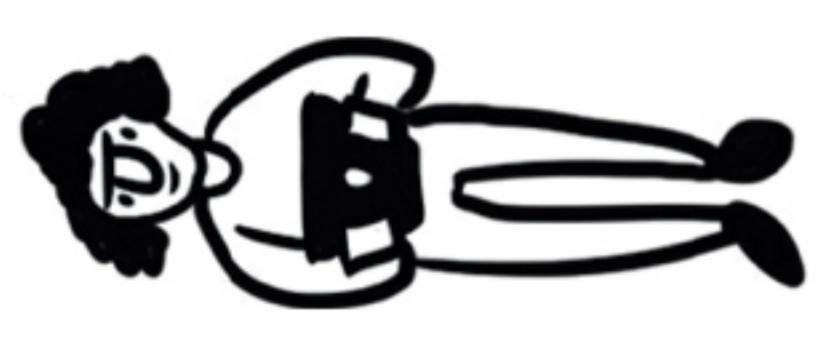

BTG are using Twitter to 'work out loud', share how and why we're transforming and promote best practice. Here's how to join the conversation.

What's in it for me?

Information

It's a great way to learn new things and see what the world is talking about. It's a personal, real-time news feed that you can participate in.

Getting started

Futureproof your career

It's a fun and informative way of practising the digital skills you'll need as we move more of our services online.

See the big picture

Many DWP senior leaders are on Twitter. The Department has several official accounts. Follow these and you'll get an overview of how we're transforming DWP.

Speak the language

Nothing to lose

It's free and fun - follow your friends and people that interest you - join the conversation. Broaden your horizons.

Keep it sensible

BTG Twitterati

Kevin Cunningham @kevincunnington Business Transformation @DigitalDWP Likes to share BTG success.

Digital DWP @DigitalDWP All the latest news on how we are transforming DWP. Sharing interesting developments in tech and business transformation.

DWP Digital Academy @DWP_ACADEMY DWP's Digital Academy, upskilling civil servants to deliver services based on users.

BTG Social Media @BTGSocialMedia Transforming DWP's use of social media to deliver services that meet citizens' needs.

Ben Holliday @benholliday I use twitter to start conversations, tweet about user centred design and research.

Andrew Besford @abesford Sharing things I find interesting for our transformation work at DWP.

Tia @Tia_Priest Of all the voices in your head, listen to the Happy one.

Kit Collingwood @kitterati Head of product delivery for Universal Credit.

Salma Afzal @SalmaAfzal_ I'm creative and like to flex my creative side. I'm interested in innovations that add value.

Simon Hurst @SimonHurstUX User researcher working for the UK government.

Naomi Stanford @naomiorgdesign Organisation design consultant, teacher, author and speaker.

Joanne Rewcastle @joannercastle Telling the story of business transformation in the UK government.

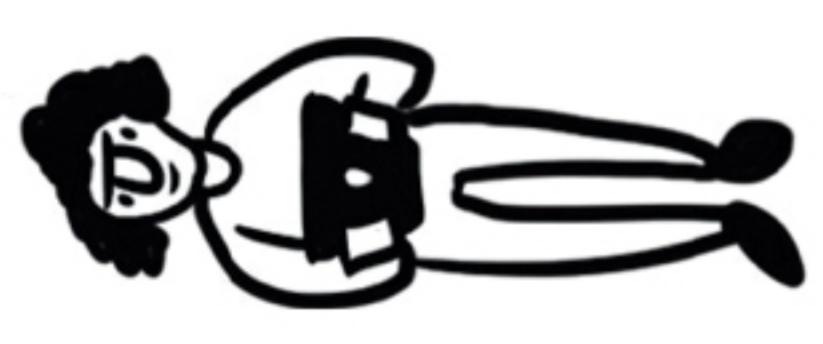

Alan Gurling @alangurling #Tech Aficionado, Pentax #Photographer, Kind #Humanist.

Daniel Riches @RichesDaniel Social about.gov | Guardian Top 10 follow on careers |@careersweek Ambassador.

Common sense

Don't post about restricted/sensitive work or customer details. Remember the Civil Service Code.

Permanent

Remember, once something is posted online, it's very difficult to remove it.

Accuracy

Check the accuracy and sensitivity of what you're posting before pressing submit.

Doubts?

If in doubt, don't post it.

You are still a civil servant

Keep the same standards of honesty, integrity, objectivity and impartiality at all times.

Read

The Electronic Media Policy, the Civil Service Code and the DWP Standards of Behaviour.

Need more help? If you have any questions or need extra Twitter tips get in touch with us: @BTGSocialMedia

214 53 ●●●